Campus placement, research papers of faculty, using technology in teaching aid, stress management of the staff, gap analysis, industry- academia interface and research and consultancy projects were some of the main topics discussed in PDT.

BENEFITS DERIVED:

- 1. How to increase the admission of students in PG courses.
- 2. How to bring Government initiative in different projects.
- 3. How consultancy services can increase the reputation of the Institute.
- 4. How to undertake more MHRD research projects.

The above benefits will help the college to increase the strength of students in PG courses which is the main problem of north region as maximum strength of youth moving abroad for job. The problem can be improved by tie up with more companies & more campus placement which will help to increase the reputation of the institute. Secondly it will help the staff to update themselves by undertaking more research projects and focussing more on research work rather than only teaching.
